

Company Profile

Emporis is an international provider of building data

Emporis is one of the biggest providers of information regarding the building market and is one of the most respected, widely utilized sources for research, ratings, and analysis on information concerning buildings on a global basis.

The firm is recognized as a first mover in the international real estate information market and publishes research results, market data, and commentary that reach millions of people worldwide over its massively used websites, ticker data published 24 hours/day on TV, navigation and routing devices, and a variety of other platforms such as events and conferences.

The integrity and deep market expertise have earned Emporis the trust of market participants worldwide. Our ratings and analysis track hundreds of domestic and international building markets.

Real estate data and research results on the market help our customers to evaluate the construction and real estate industries, recognize trends, and generate new orders. Its allows our customers faster and better methods of operation through information which was not available a few years ago.

Today Emporis is a market leader concerning data of high-rise buildings (structures with 12 or more floors). The goal is to cover the whole building market in the years to come.

The products of Emporis contribute to efficiencies for firms operating in the architectural, construction, financial, insurance, engineering, real estate, and supplying industries.

Emporis.com

The databases of Emporis contain more than 160,000 buildings, 47,000 companies, and 300,000 photos about the subjects buildings, architecture, and cities.

A large number of companies involved in the construction or management of buildings as well as hundreds of editors from more than 50 countries take care of the data expansion. By doing so the databases grow every day by thousands of webpages, unnoticed by most users.

More information about the company as well as its offered products are available online:
<http://products.emporis.com>

Emporis GmbH
Lise-Meitner-Strasse 7
64293 Darmstadt
Germany

Phone: +49 6151 500170
Fax: +49 6151 5001799
Email: info@emporis.com